GENERAL INFORMATION.

LOCATION.

HILLSDALE COLLEGE is located at Hillsdale, Michigan, on the Michigan Southern Railroad. The College edifice is of Brick, four stories high besides the basement, embracing upwards of twenty public rooms, and one hundred and ten private rooms, sufficient for accommodating two hundred and twenty students. The building also affords boarding accommodations for an equal number. There are, in addition, ample accommodations in private families, in the vicinity of the College, for several hundred more.

EXPENSES.

Tuition, in College department, $30.00 a year; in all other departments $20.00 a year. Scholarships may ordinarily be obtained so as to reduce this to $10.00.

Room rent from $2.00 to $3.00 a Term. The rooms are furnished with stove, bedstead, table, chairs, and closet. Each student furnishes his own bed and bedding, lights, wood, &c.

Incidental Expenses, from 75 cents to $1.00 per Term.

Board $1.50 per week. With use of tea and coffee, $1.75.

Tuition, Room Rent and Incidentals payable a Term, in advance.

Those preferring to find accommodations, in private families, can do so upon the same terms as in the college building.

Board monthly, in advance.

Expenses are, in many cases, partially defrayed by what the students receive for manual labor—the Young Ladies in the Boarding Department, and the Young Men in various kinds of employment. The regular expense for the Academic Year will ordinarily be from $85.00 to $100.00.

Extra charges as follows:

Instrumental Music (with use of instrument),	$10.00 a Term.
Vocal Music,	50 a Term.
Penmanship,	1.00 for 20 lessons.
Drawing	3.00 for 50 lessons.
Oil Painting,	5.00 a Term.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission, to any department of the Institution, must bring testimonials of good character; and those coming from other Institutions certificates of honorable dismissal.

None will be received under fourteen years of age, except by special permission from the Faculty; and no one will be recognized as a member of the Institution until he shall have signed a pledge to observe faithfully all the laws and regulations of the College, during his connection therewith.

Students may be admitted at any time during the Term, if prepared to enter the classes already formed; but it is generally very much to the advantage of the student to be present promptly at the opening of each Term. And those in the regular course of study are expected to be present in all cases at the first recitation of their respective classes, unless leave of absence has been previously obtained.

Public examinations are had at the close of each Term; and no leave of absence previous to examination will be granted, unless demanded by obvious necessity. In the case of minors, a written request from parents and guardians will be required.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The course of study is arranged as already set forth, in three different departments. Those completing the College Course, or its equivalent, will receive the ordinary degree of A. B. Those completing the English Course, or its equivalent, will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science.

Young Ladies completing the Ladies' Course, will receive the ordinary Diploma. Any Young Lady who chooses, may, with the advice of the Faculty, pursue the full College Course.

The method of instruction in the common and higher English branches, has constant reference to the wants of those who design to teach, more or less; and during the Fall Term, a Course of Lectures on the instruction and management of Common Schools, is delivered by one or more of the Faculty, to such of the students as may choose to attend.

Others are expected to attend at the College Chapel, unless their parents or guardians otherwise request.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

—o—

LOCATION.

HILLSDALE COLLEGE is located at Hillsdale, Michigan, on the Michigan Southern Railroad. The College edifice is of brick, four stories high besides the basement, embracing upwards of twenty public rooms, and one hundred and ten private rooms, sufficient for accomodating two hundred and twenty students. The building also affords boarding accomodations for an equal number. There are, in addition, ample accomodations in private families, in the vicinity of the College, for several hundred more.

EXPENSES.

Tuition, in College department, $30.00 a year; in all other departments $20.00 a year. Scholarships may ordinarily be obtained so as to reduce this to $10.00.

Room rent from $2.00 to $3.00 a term. The rooms are furnished with stove, bedstead, table, chairs, and closet. Each student furnishes his own bed and bedding, lights, wood, etc.

Incidental expenses, from $1.50 to $2.00 per term.

Board $2.00 per week. With use of tea and coffee, $2.50.

Tuition, room rent and incidentals, payable a term in advance.

Those preferring to find accomodations in private families, can do so upon the same terms as in the college building.

Board monthly, in advance.

Expenses are, in many cases, partially defrayed by what the students receive for manual labor—the young ladies in the boarding department, and the young men in various kinds of employment. The regular expense for the Academic year will ordinarily be from $95.00 to $100.00.

Extra charges as follows:

Instrumental Music, with use of instrument.....	$12.50 a term.
Vocal Music.....	1.00 a term,
Penmanship.....	1.00 for 20 lessons.
Drawing.....	3.00 for 40 lessons.
Oil Painting.....	5.00 a term.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission, to any department of the Institution, must bring testimonials of good character; and those coming from other Institutions, certificates of honorable dismission.

None will be received under fourteen years of age, except by special permission from the Faculty; and no one will be recognized as a member of the Institution until he shall have signed a pledge to observe faithfully all the laws and regulations of the College, during his connection therewith.

Students may be admitted at any time during the term, if prepared to enter the classes already formed; but it is generally very much to the advantage of the student to be present promptly at the opening of each term. And those in the regular course of study are expected to be present, in all cases, at the first recitation of their respective classes, unless leave of absence has been previously obtained.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The course of study is arranged, as already set forth, in three different departments, and Diplomas will be presented to such as complete a course in a satisfactory manner.

The method of instruction in the common and higher English branches, has constant reference to the wants of those who design to teach; and during the Fall Term, a course of lectures on the instruction and management of Common Schools, is delivered by one or more of the Faculty.

Those who are of age select for themselves; others are expected to attend at the College Chapel, unless their parents or guardians otherwise request.

HILLSDALE COLLEGE is located at Hillsdale, Michigan, on the Michigan Southern Railroad. The College edifice is of Brick, four stories high besides the basement, embracing upwards of twenty public rooms, and one hundred and ten private rooms, sufficient for accommodating two hundred and twenty students. The building also affords boarding accommodations for an equal number. There are, in addition, ample accommodations in private families, in the vicinity of the College, for several hundred more.

EXPENSES.

Tuition in the College department is $30.00 a year ; in all other departments $20.00 a year. Scholarships may ordinarily be obtained, so as to reduce this to $9.00

Room-rent, from $3.00 to $5.00 a term. The rooms are furnished with stoves, bedsteads, tables and chairs. Each Student furnishes his own bed and bedding, light, wood, etc.

Matriculation, $3 00.

Incidental expenses from $1.50 to $2.00 per term.

Board, from $2.50 to $3.00 per week.

Tuition, room-rent and incidentals, payable a term in advance.

Those preferring to find accommodations in private families, can ordinarily do so upon the same terms as in the College building.

Board, monthly in advance.

The regular expenses for the Academic year, will ordinarily be from $120.00 to $130.00.

Extra charges as follows :

Vocal Music, ----- 1.00 a term.

Penmanship, ----- 1.50 for 20 lessons.

Drawing, ----- 6.00 for 20 lessons.

Oil Painting, ----- 12.00 for 20 lessons.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to any department of the Institution, must bring testimonials of good character ; and those coming from other Institutions, certificates of honorable dismissal.

None will be received under fourteen years of age, except by special permission from the Faculty ; and no one will be recognized as a member of the Institution until he shall have signed a pledge to observe faithfully all the laws and regulations of the College, during his connection therewith.

Students may be admitted at any time during the term, if prepared to enter the classes already formed ; but it is generally very much to the advantage of the student to be present promptly at the opening of each term. And those in the regular course of study are expected to be present, in all cases, at the first recitation of their respective classes, unless leave of absence has been previously obtained.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The course of study is arranged, as already set forth, in three different departments, and Diplomas will be presented to such as complete a course in a satisfactory manner.

The method of instruction in the common and higher English branches, has constant reference to the wants of those who design to teach; and during the Fall Term, a course of lectures on the instruction and management of Common Schools, is delivered by one or more of the Faculty.

THEOLOGICAL INSTRUCTION.

The endowment of the "Burr Professorship of Biblical Theology," is now completed; and arrangements are made for giving regular and systematic instruction to young men contemplating the Christian ministry, without charge for Tuition.

The classes thus formed are open to all who are prepared to enter them, whether they have completed a previous course of Academical study or not; and all who are in course of preparation for the ministry have the privilege of pursuing study in any of the Departments of the Institution, as a part of that preparation. By the liberality of Christian friends, scholarships are furnished to all such, free of charge.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

All the students are required to attend prayers daily in the chapel, and public worship at the same place on Sabbath afternoon. They are also required to attend regularly at some place of worship, on Sabbath forenoon. Those who are of age select for themselves; others are expected to attend at the College Chapel, unless their parents or guardians otherwise request.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Text-Books and Stationery are sold at the College, and in the village at Detroit and Chicago prices.

Literary Societies are well sustained among the students of both sexes.

Separate Reading Rooms, for ladies and gentlemen, are provided by the College, and furnished with an ample and valuable selection of periodicals, to which all students have access at a small charge.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

LOCATION.

HILLSDALE COLLEGE is located at Hillsdale, Michigan, on the Michigan Southern Railroad. The College edifice is of Brick, four stories high, besides the basement, embracing upwards of twenty public rooms, and one hundred and ten private rooms, sufficient for accommodating two hundred and twenty students. The building also affords boarding accommodations for an equal number. There are, in addition, ample accommodations in private families, in the vicinity of the College, for several hundred more.

EXPENSES.

Tuition in the College department is $30.00 a year; in all other departments $20.00 a year. Scholarships may ordinarily be obtained, so as to reduce this to $9.00.

Room-rent from $3.00 to $5.00 a term. The rooms are furnished with stoves, bedsteads, tables and chairs. Each Student furnishes his own bed and bedding, light, wood, etc.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to any department of the Institution, must bring testimonials of good character; and those coming from other Institutions, certificates of honorable dismissal.

None will be received under fourteen years of age, except by special permission from the Faculty; and no one will be recognized as a member of the Institution until he shall have signed a pledge to observe faithfully all the laws and regulations of the College, during his connection therewith.

Students may be admitted at any time during the term, if prepared to enter the classes already formed; but it is generally very much to the advantage of the student to be present promptly at the opening of each term. And those in the regular course of study are expected to be present, in all cases, at the first recitation of their respective classes, unless leave of absence has been previously obtained.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The course of study is arranged, as already set forth, in three different departments, and Diplomas will be presented to such as complete a course in a satisfactory manner.

The method of instruction in the common and higher English branches, has constant reference to the wants of those who design to teach; and during the Fall Term, a course of lectures on the instruction and management of Common Schools, is delivered by one or more of the Faculty.

THEOLOGICAL INSTRUCTION.

The endowment of the "Burr Professorship of Biblical Theology," is now completed; and arrangements are made for giving regular and systematic instruction to young men contemplating the Christian ministry, without charge for Tuition.

The classes thus formed are open to all who are prepared to enter them, whether they have completed a previous course of Academical study or not; and all who are in course of preparation for the ministry have the privilege of pursuing study in any of the Departments of the Institution, as a part of that preparation. By the liberality of Christian friends, scholarships are furnished to all such, free of charge.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

All the students are required to attend prayers daily in the chapel, and public worship at the same place on Sabbath afternoon. They are also required to attend regularly at some place of worship, on Sabbath forenoon. Those who are of age select for themselves; others are expected to attend at the College Chapel, unless their parents or guardians otherwise request.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Text-Books and Stationery are sold at the College, and in the village at Detroit and Chicago prices.

Literary Societies are well sustained among the students of both sexes. Separate Reading Rooms, for ladies and gentlemen, are provided by the College, and furnished with an ample and valuable selection of periodicals, to which all students have access at a small charge.

THEOLOGICAL INSTRUCTION.

The endowment of the "Burr Professorship of Biblical Theology," is now completed; and arrangements are made for giving regular and systematic instruction to young men contemplating the Christian ministry; and all who are in course of preparation for the ministry have the privilege of pursuing study in any of the Departments of the Institution, as a part of that preparation. By the liberality of Christian friends, scholarships are furnished to all such, free of charge.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

All the students are required to attend prayers daily in the Chapel, and public worship twice on the Sabbath; in the afternoon at the College Church, and in the forenoon or evening at such places as may be selected with the approval of the Faculty.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Text-Books and Stationery may be obtained at the College or at the Book Store.

The Ladies have a Reading Room furnished with a valuable selection of periodicals, to which all have access at a small charge.

Arrangements have been made for the teaching of Book-keeping and Penmanship by the Commercial business University of this place.

LIBRARY AND CABINET.

The Library contains about three thousand volumes, and is constantly increasing, by donation and purchase. All the students have access to the Library. Friends of the College will confer a substantial favor by contributions of books to the Library.

The cabinets of Geology, Minerology, and Conchology contain many valuable specimens, and additions are being constantly made. Contributions to this department, also, are earnestly solicited from friends in different parts of the country.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Gentlemen have three well sustained literary societies. The Amphietyon, The Alpha Kappa Phi, and The Theological.

The latter is mostly composed of students who have the ministry in view.

The Ladies have two Societies: The Ladies' Literary Union and The Germanæ Sodales, which are also well sustained.

These societies have separate rooms and libraries.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The course of study is arranged, as already set forth, in three different departments, and Diplomas will be presented to such as complete a course in a satisfactory manner.

The method of instruction in the common and higher English branches, has constant reference to the wants of those who design to teach; and during the Fall Term, a course of lectures on the instruction and management of Common Schools, is delivered by one or more of the Faculty.

THEOLOGICAL INSTRUCTION.

The endowment of the "Burr Professorship of Biblical Theology," is now completed; and arrangements are made for giving regular and systematic instruction to young men contemplating the Christian ministry; and all who are in course of preparation for the ministry have the privilege of pursuing study in any of the Departments of the Institution, as a part of that preparation. By the liberality of Christian friends, scholarships are furnished to all such, free of charge.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

All the students are required to attend prayers daily in the Chapel, and public worship twice on the Sabbath; in the afternoon at the College Church, and in the forenoon or evening at such places as may be selected with the approval of the Faculty.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Text-Books and Stationery may be obtained at the College or at the Book Store.

The Ladies have a Reading Room furnished with a valuable selection of periodicals, to which all have access at a small charge.

Arrangements have been made for the teaching of Book-Keeping and Penmanship by the Commercial Business University of this place.

LIBRARY AND CABINET.

The Library contains about three thousand volumes, and is constantly increasing, by donation and purchase. All the students have access to the Library. Friends of the College will confer a substantial favor by contributions of books to the Library.

The cabinets of Geology, Mineralogy, and Conchology contain many valuable specimens, and additions are being constantly made. Contributions to this department, also, are earnestly solicited from friends in different parts of the country.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Gentlemen have three well-sustained Literary Societies: The Amphictyon, the Alpha Kappa Phi, and the Theological.

The latter is mostly composed of students who have the ministry in view.

The Ladies have two Societies: The Ladies' Literary Union, and The Germanæ Sodales, which are also well sustained.

These societies have separate rooms and libraries.

THEOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT.

ARRANGEMENTS have been made by which regular and systematic instruction will be given to candidates for the Christian Ministry. The full course requires three years. A shorter course omitting Greek and Hebrew, may be completed in two years. Students are admitted to such advanced standing in either of the classes as their previous studies may have qualified them to take.

The studies preparatory to the Theological Course are taken in the other departments of the College.

Young men preparing for the Ministry of any denomination are granted room rent and tuition in either of the departments without charge. To those who purpose to enter the ministry of the Free Baptist denomination, and are taking either of the courses in the Theological Department, aid will be furnished, should they need it, amounting to about two hundred dollars a year. Assistance varying from twenty-five to one hundred dollars, according to advancement in studies, is given to those who require it who are still in the Preparatory Department or in the College. It is hoped that the liberality of friends will soon enable us to afford such assistance to all candidates, without reference to their denominational relationship.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

LOCATION.

HILLSDALE, the seat of Hillsdale College is a flourishing city in southern Michigan. By means of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, and the Detroit, Hillsdale & Indiana Railroads, which pass through it, communication is had with all parts of the country. By these routes it is distant one hundred and eighty miles east of Chicago, sixty west of Toledo and eighty southwest of Detroit.

The college building is a fine brick structure two hundred and sixty-two feet in length and four-stories high exclusive of the basement. The grounds surrounding it are ample, and well laid out. It is sufficiently near to the business portion of the city to accommodate students in all matters which may legitimately call them there, and yet is so far removed as to secure that quiet which is essential to the successful prosecution of study.

Arrangements are contemplated by which the present building will be materially enlarged; and others will be erected as the growth of the several departments may demand.

BOARDING.

The rooms in the College are furnished with stoves, bedsteads, tables and chairs. Each student furnishes his own bed and bedding, light, wood, etc.

Students whose circumstances demand it are permitted to board themselves. Many reduce their expenses materially by forming boarding clubs.

Ladies who are not residents of the city are required to room in the college, unless permission has been previously secured to room elsewhere.

Ladies and gentlemen are not allowed to occupy rooms in the same private house.

COURSES OF STUDY.

The courses of study are arranged, as already set forth, in the different departments; and Diplomas will be presented to such as complete a course in a satisfactory manner.

The method of instruction in the common and higher English branches, has constant reference to the wants of those who design to teach; and during the Fall Term, a course of lectures on the instruction and management of Common Schools, is delivered by one or more of the Faculty.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

All the students are required to attend prayer daily in the Chapel, and public worship twice on the Sabbath; in the afternoon at the College Church, and in the forenoon or evening at such places as may be selected with the approval of the Faculty.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The Ladies have a Reading Room furnished with a valuable selection of periodicals, to which all have access at a small charge.

All the classes are examined at the close of each term.

Students who are compelled to support themselves find such facilities (for doing so) in Hillsdale, or its immediate vicinity, that no diligent and economical person need despair of securing an education.

LIBRARY AND CABINET.

The Library contains more than three thousand volumes, and is constantly increasing, by donation and purchase. All students have access to the Library. Friends of the College will confer a substantial favor by contributions of books to the Library.

The cabinets of Geology, Mineralogy, and Conchology contain many valuable specimens, and additions are being constantly made. Contributions to this department, also, are earnestly solicited from friends in different parts of the country.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Gentlemen have three well-sustained Literary Societies: The Amphictyon, the Alpha Kappa Phi, and the Theological.

The latter is mostly composed of students who have the ministry in view.

The Ladies have two Societies: The Ladies' Literary Union, and The Germanæ Sodales, which are also well sustained.

These societies have separate rooms and libraries.

TIME AND CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

ANDIDATES for admission to any department of the Institution must bring testimonials of good character; and those coming from other institutions, certificates of honorable dismissal. None will be received under fourteen years of age, except by special permission.

Students may be admitted at any time during the term, if prepared to enter the classes already formed; but it is very much to the advantage of the student to be present promptly at the opening of each term. Those in the regular course of study are required to be present at the first recitation of their respective classes, unless leave of absence has been previously obtained.

The regular examinations for admission to the Freshman Class will take place on Friday of Commencement week, June 20th, 1873, in the President's room, beginning at 9 A. M.

There will be a second examination on Wednesday, September 3d, 1873, for admission to the Freshman Class, or to advanced standing.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, are admitted to the Freshman Class on satisfactory examination as follows:

Latin Grammar, including Prosody;

Latin Prose Composition;

Cæsar, two books;

Cicero, four orations;

Sallust, Conspiracy of Catiline;

Greek Grammar and Lessons;

Xenophon's Anabasis, three books;

Arnold's Greek Prose Composition, twenty sections;

Greek Testament, twenty chapters of the Gospels;

Arithmetic; Algebra, to ratio;

English Grammar; Ancient and Modern Geography.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science are admitted to the Freshman Class on examination in

Latin Grammar ;

Cæsar, two books.

Algebra, to ratio ;

Arithmetic ; Geography ;

English Grammar, and Composition.

Students who wish to pursue selected collegiate studies, in connection with either of the four regular college classes, without entering as candidates for a degree, may be examined in the above mentioned English studies.

Candidates for admission to advanced standing, whether from another college or not, are expected to pass satisfactory examinations in all the studies required for admission to the Freshman Class, and in all the required studies already gone over by the class for which they present themselves.

Instruction is given in the above required and elective studies only at the time specified.

Students in the three regular courses are required to observe this order, and to take the studies of their respective courses without omission, or transposition in time; and it is most earnestly urged upon all who are limited to select college studies, to conform as far as possible to the regular sequence of studies as here given.

Examinations for regular promotion are required on the completion of every study; and the pursuance of a study during the whole or a part of a term will, in no case, entitle the student to class promotion without his having passed a satisfactory examination therein.

Classical preparatory instruction for admission to the Freshman Class (A. B. course) is arranged for two years, in the following:

Students will observe that the College here presents three distinct courses or plans of study—extending through six, five, and four years—suited to the time and means of all, yet each implying a greater or less completeness of culture. These shorter courses of study are offered in the earnest hope of encouraging some students to accomplish definite, attainable, and more complete plans of mental training, who have felt themselves shut out from the more extended college curriculum, and who could have selected only the disconnected and consequently less serviceable parts of a longer course.

THEOLOGICAL COURSE.

IN THE preparation for Theological Studies and the Christian Ministry, classical studies are not to be ignored nor undervalued, and such studies, including Greek and Hebrew, are therefore provided for in the classical and scientific departments of the College. But it is believed that specific preparation for pastoral labor should be directly and especially adapted to that work. Such a course has been arranged, requiring three years of study upon the doctrines of religion and duties of ministers of the gospel; and any person can enter upon this course, or any part of it, whose knowledge and discipline of mind enable him to successfully pursue it. As Logic, Rhetoric, Mental Philosophy, Languages, and Natural Science, together with other branches taught in the College Course, are necessarily employed in the work of the ministry, a selection has been made for the first year in Theology, from studies in the classical and scientific departments. Those in good standing, of any denomination, and giving evidence of a call to the ministry, may be admitted to the Theological Course without charge for tuition; and to those in the Middle and Senior years, there will be no charge for room rent. A fund of the denomination furnishes to its members in preparation for the ministry a partial support; and opportunities for preaching, with arrangements for remuneration, are obtained as far as practicable, for students in the Theological Course.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

LOCATION.

HILLSDALE, the seat of Hillsdale College, is a flourishing city in Southern Michigan. By means of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, and the Detroit, Hillsdale & Indiana Railroads, which pass through it, communication is had with all parts of the country. By these routes it is one hundred and eighty miles east of Chicago, sixty west of Toledo, and eighty southwest of Detroit.

The College building is a fine brick structure two hundred and sixty-two feet in length, and four stories high exclusive of the basement. The grounds surrounding it are ample, and well laid out. It is sufficiently near to the business portion of the city to accommodate students in all matters which may legitimately call them there, and yet is so far removed as to secure that quiet which is essential to the successful prosecution of study.

Arrangements are contemplated by which the present building will be materially enlarged; and others will be erected as the growth of the several departments may demand.

BOARDING.

The rooms in the College are furnished with stoves, bedsteads, tables and chairs. Each student furnishes his own bed and bedding, light, wood, etc.

Students whose circumstances require it, are permitted to board themselves.

Ladies who are not residents of the city are required to room in the College, unless permission has been previously secured to room elsewhere.

GRADUATION.

On the Sabbath before Commencement Day, the President preaches before the graduating classes his Baccalaureate sermon.

To all members of the graduating class of the Classical Department in full and regular standing, the Trustees grant Diplomas conferring the academic degree of Bachelor of Arts.

To all members of the graduating class of the Scientific Department and of the Ladies' Course, the Trustees grant Diplomas conferring the academic degree of Bachelor of Science.

NORMAL INSTRUCTION.

Teachers' classes are formed every Fall Term, in which special instruction is given in the branches pursued in the common schools. In connection with these classes, lectures will be delivered on the theory and practice of teaching. Thus ample facilities will be afforded to prepare teachers thoroughly for their work.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

All the students are required to attend prayer daily in the Chapel, and public worship twice on the Sabbath; in the afternoon at the College Church, and in the forenoon or evening at such places as may be selected, with the approval of the Faculty.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The gentlemen and the ladies have each a Reading-Room, furnished with a valuable selection of periodicals, to which all have access at a small charge.

Students desiring to support themselves in whole or in part, can find employment in Hillsdale, or its immediate vicinity.

LIBRARY AND CABINET.

The Library contains more than three thousand volumes, and is constantly increasing, by donation and purchase. All students have access to the Library. Friends of the College will confer a substantial favor by making contributions of books to the Library.

The cabinets of Geology, Mineralogy, and Conchology contain many valuable specimens, and additions are constantly being made. Contributions to this department, also, are earnestly solicited from friends in different parts of the country.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Gentlemen have three well-sustained Literary Societies: The Amphictyon, the Alpha Kappa Phi, and the Theological.

The latter is mostly composed of students who have the ministry in view.

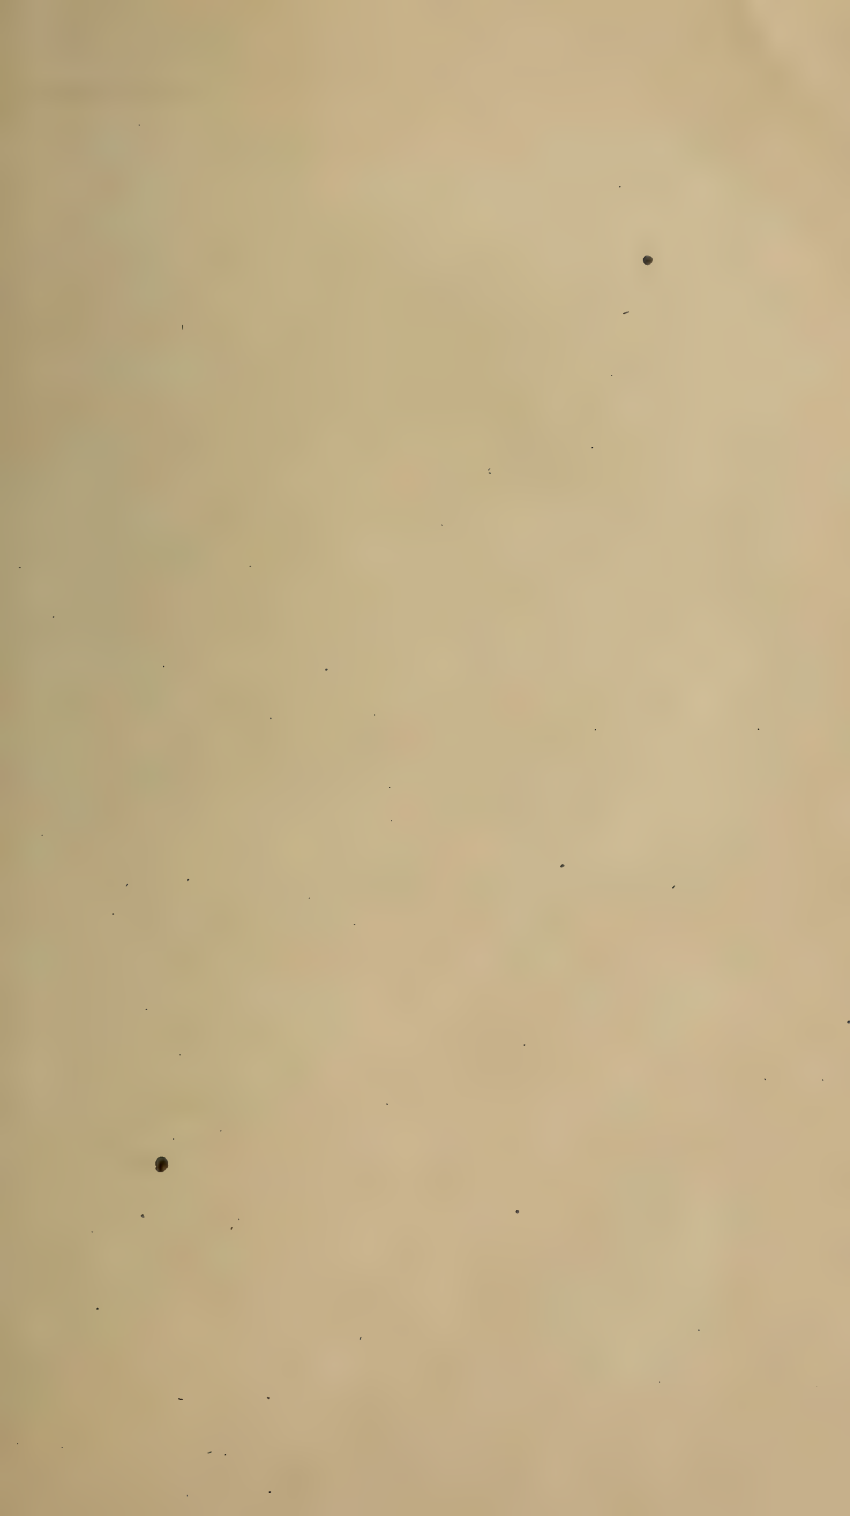

The Ladies have two Societies: The Ladies' Literary Union, and the Germanæ Sodales, which are also well sustained.

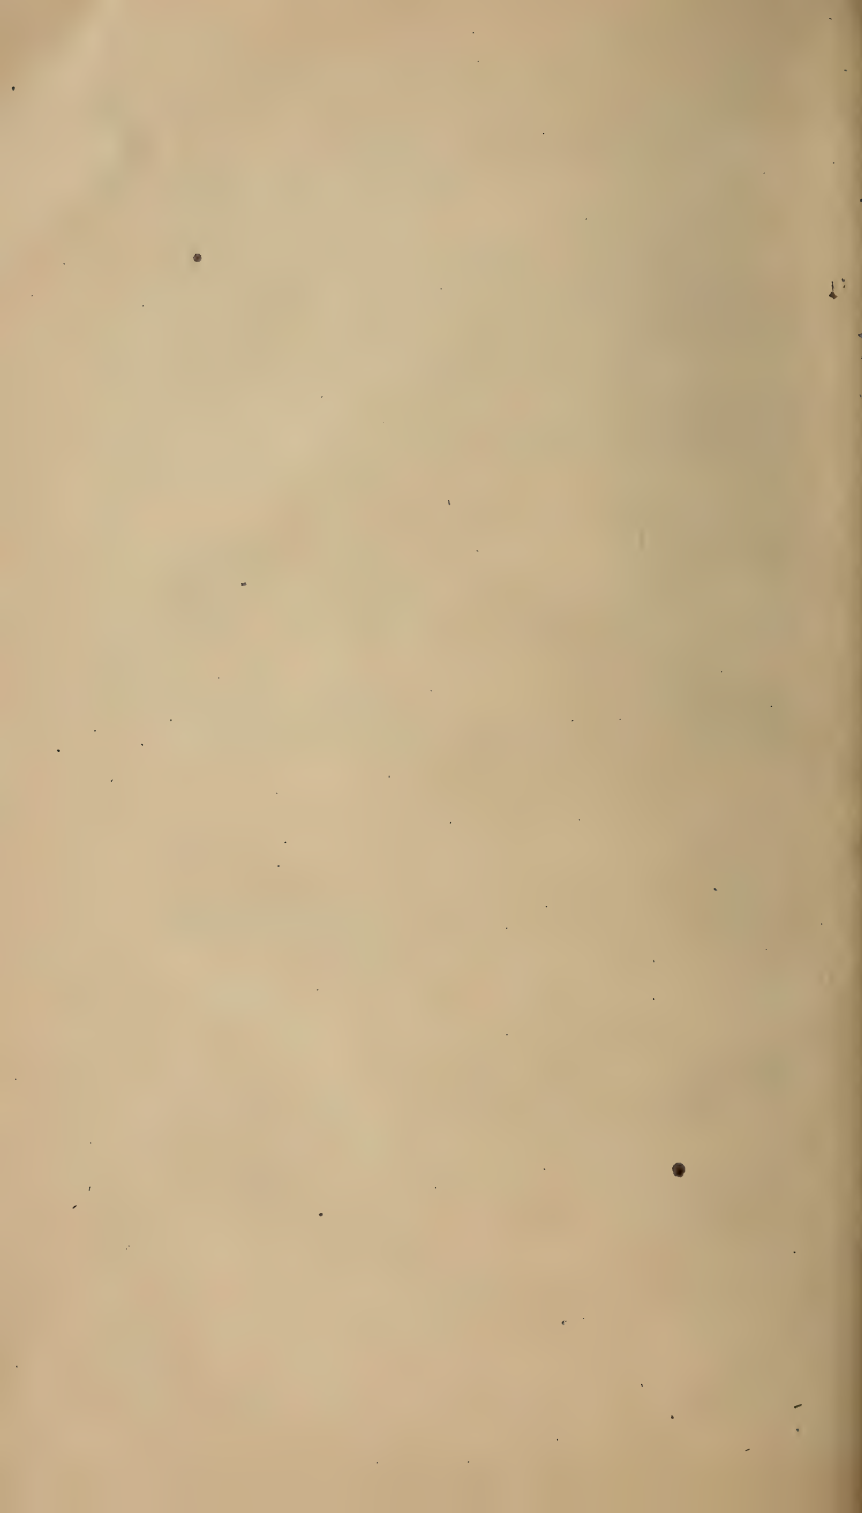

These societies have separate rooms and libraries.

TIME AND CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

CANDIDATES for admission to any department of the Institution must bring testimonials of good character; and those coming from other institutions, certificates of honorable dismissal. None will be received under fourteen years of age, except by special permission.

Students may be admitted at any time during the term, if prepared to enter the classes already formed; but it is very much to the advantage of the student to be present promptly at the opening of each term. Those in the regular course of study are required to be present at the first recitation of their respective classes, unless leave of absence has been previously obtained.

The regular examinations for admission to the Freshman Class, will take place on Friday of Commencement week, June 20th, 1874, in the President's room, beginning at 9 A. M.

There will be a second examination on Wednesday, September 3d, 1874, for admission to the Freshman Class, or to advanced standing.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts are admitted to the Freshman Class on satisfactory examination as follows:

Latin Grammar, including Prosody;

Latin Prose Composition;

Cæsar, two books;

Cicero, four orations;

Sallust, Conspiracy of Catiline;

Greek Grammar and Lessons;

Xenophen's Anabasis, three books;

Arnold's Greek Prose Composition, twenty sections;

English Grammar; Ancient and Modern Geography.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science are admitted to the Freshman Class on examination in

Latin Grammar ;

Cæsar, two books ;

Algebra, to ratio ;

Arithmetic ; Geography ;

English Grammar and Composition.

Students who wish to pursue selected collegiate studies, in connection with either of the four regular college classes, without entering as candidates for a degree, may be examined in the above mentioned English studies.

Candidates for admission to advanced standing, whether from another college or not, are expected to pass satisfactory examinations in all the studies required for admission to the Freshman Class, and in all the required studies already gone over by the class for which they present themselves.

SENIOR.

Instruction is given in the above required and elective studies only at the time specified.

Students in the three regular courses are required to observe this order, and to take the studies of their respective courses without omission, or transposition in time; and it is most earnestly urged upon all who are limited to select college studies, to conform as far as possible to the regular sequence of studies as herein given.

Examinations for regular promotion are required on the completion of every study; and the pursuance of a study during the whole or a part of a term will, in no case, entitle the student to class promotion without his having passed a satisfactory examination therein.

Classical preparatory instruction for admission to the Freshman Class (A. B. course) is arranged for two years, in the following

Students will observe that the College here presents three distinct courses or plans of study—extending through six, five, and four years—suited to the time and means of all, yet each implying a greater or less completeness of culture. These shorter courses of study are offered in the earnest hope of encouraging some students to accomplish definite, attainable, and more complete plans of mental training, who have felt themselves shut out from the more extended college curriculum, and who could have selected only the disconnected and consequently less serviceable parts of a longer course.

THEOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

 HIS Department is open to any person of Christian character, who wishes to take a theological course of study, and whose education qualifies him to pursue the course with profit.

Candidates for admission are expected to be present on the first day of the Academic Year.

EXPENSES.

Tuition and room-rent are free to all in this department who are members in good standing in any evangelical denomination, and tuition is free to those in other departments of the College who are preparing for the work of the gospel ministry.

Rooms are assigned in the order of application, but no room is reserved for any applicant who neglects to appear beyond one week after the opening of the term. Each room is furnished with table, bedstead, stove, and chairs. Board can be obtained for from $1.80 to $3.00 per week.

AID.

Pecuniary assistance is furnished to students who are preparing for the ministry and are needy, and, so far as practicable, opportunities for remunerative preaching are obtained for them. The means thus provided, together with what may be earned during the vacations, are usually sufficient to support the student through the year.

LIBRARY.

The College has a well selected library to which additions are frequently made. This is accessible to the students in theology, free of charge.

ENGLISH COURSE.

This course embraces all the studies of the Regular Course, except the Ancient Languages. A Special Course is allowed, under the direction of the Faculty, to those whose circumstances preclude them from the other courses.

GRADUATION.

A diploma is given to those who complete either prescribed course of theological study and pass satisfactory examinations in the same.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

These, in the Theological Department, are the same as those in the College. See Calendar.

In working these sets the student makes out his Journal,—in most of the sets Day-book also, and posts to his Ledger, keeping all the auxiliary books, and writing out every kind of Commercial Paper, including Contracts, Promissory Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, Orders, Receipts Due-bills, Accounts Current, Account Sales, Bills of Parcels, Invoices, and Bills of Lading.

Among the kinds of business which the practice in Book-keeping comprises, are Wholesale and Retail Merchandising, Commission, Compound Company and Joint Stock Business, Banking, Steamboating, Railroad-ing, Manufacturing, Jobbing, Brokerage, and Exchange.

Instruction is given orally to classes and individuals separately, and their work criticised and corrected.

The course is divided into three divisions, as follows :

FACILITIES.

The telegraphic apparatus is very large, embracing every kind of instrument in use on the lines of this country, in connection with which there is a good collection of electrical instruments quite sufficient to fully illustrate every principle of electricity which would in anywise interest or benefit the student of Telegraphy. In the practice students are drilled first on short circuits confined to the College building, then upon the College line having five separate offices distant from each other a quarter of a mile, and provided with all necessary office supplies, such as blank record books, printed message blanks, tariff books, blank reports, and train order blanks. The W. U. Co.'s city office and the Telegraph office of the L. S. & M. S. R. R. are also connected with this line, and the telegrams of the public are received and transmitted from either of these offices. At the same time the students in these offices copy from the L. S. & M. S. R. R. line, thus gaining a practical knowledge of train dispatching. As soon as the student becomes qualified to transact business for the public readily, he is allowed to take charge of the city office of the W. U. Telegraph Co., where he is required to perform every duty connected with the public service, working directly with several cities and large towns, and being brought through this channel into business relations with a large body of operators, among whom are some of the best qualified in the service, he is enabled to gain a practical experience not attainable in any other way.

THE COURSE

Is divided into two Divisions, and is accompanied by a course of Lectures embracing the following subjects:

GENERAL INFORMATION.

LOCATION.

HILLSDALE, the seat of Hillsdale College, is a flourishing city in Southern Michigan. By means of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, and the Detroit, Hillsdale and Indiana Railroads, which pass through it, communication is had with all parts of the country. By these routes it is one hundred and eighty miles east of Chicago, sixty west of Toledo, and eighty southwest of Detroit.

The College building is a fine brick structure, two hundred and sixty-two feet in length, and four stories high exclusive of the basement. The grounds surrounding it are ample, and well laid out. It is sufficiently near to the business partion of the city to accommodate students in all matters which may legitimately call them there, and yet is so far removed as to secure that quiet which is essential to the successful prosecution of study.

Arrangements are contemplated by which the prsent building will be materially enlarged; and others will be erected as the growth of the several departments may demand.

Students whose circumstances require it, are permitted to board themselves.

Ladies who are not residents of the city are required to room in the College, unless permission has been previously obtained to room elsewhere.

GRADUATION.

On the Sabbath before Commencement Day, the President preaches before the graduating classes his Baccalaureate sermon.

To all members of the graduating class of the Classical Department in full and regular standing, the Trustees grant Diplomas conferring the academic degree of Bachelor of Arts.

To all members of the graduating class of the Scientific Department and of the Ladies' Course, the Trustees grant diplomas conferring the academic degree of Bachelor of Science.

NORMAL INSTRUCTION.

Teachers' classes are formed every Fall Term, in which special instruction is given in the branches pursued in the common schools. In connection with these classes, lectures will be delivered on the theory and practice of teaching. Thus ample facilities will be afforded to prepare teachers thoroughly for their work.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

All the students are required to attend prayer daily in the Chapel, and public worship twice on the Sabbath; in the afternoon at the College Church, and in the forenoon or evening at such places as may be selected, with the approval of the Faculty.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The gentlemen and the ladies have each a Reading-Room, furnished with a valuable selection of periodicals, to which all have access at a small charge.

Students desiring to support themselves in whole or in part, can find employment in Hillsdale, or its immediate vicinity.

LIBRARY AND CABINET.

The Library contains about four thousand volumes, and is constantly increasing, by donation and purchase. All students have access to the Library. Friends of the College will confer a substantial favor by making contributions of books to the Library.

The College Museum of Natural History has been largely increased during the past year by donation and purchase, particularly in the departments of Geology, Ornithology, Entomology, and Botany.

The College Herbarium now comprises :

- (1.) The Dr. Abbott collection of California plants ;
- (2.) A collection of Michigan plants ;
- (3.) A collection of Alpine and European plants ;
- (4.) A collection of New England plants.

Contributions to this department, also, are earnestly solicited from friends in different parts of the country.

PAINTING AND DRAWING.

In addition to the general instruction in Perspective Drawing, Crayoning, Oil Painting, and other exercises, pupils have access to Mr. Gardner's collection of pictures from original designs and copies from the old Masters. Mr. Geo. B. Gardner, the instructor in this department, a professional artist of many years' experience, having studied in the best Galleries in Europe and throughout the United States, will from time to time give lectures on painting, and the arts of design. Special attention will be given to those who wish to qualify themselves to teach or to practice the profession. It will not be deemed invidious to say that quite exceptional advantages are afforded in this Institution for the study of Art.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Gentlemen have three well-sustained Literary Societies: The Amphictyon, the Alpha Kappa Phi, and the Theological.

The latter is mostly composed of students who have the ministry in view.

The Ladies have two Societies: The Ladies' Literary Union, and the Germanæ Sodales, which are also well sustained.

These societies have separate rooms and libraries.

In the practice students are drilled first on short circuits confined to the College building, then upon the College line having five separate offices, distant from each other a quarter of a mile, and provided with all necessary office supplies, such as blank record books, printed message blanks, tariff books, blank reports, and train order blanks. The W. U. Co.'s city office and the telegraph office of the L. S. & M. S. R. R. are also connected with this line, and the telegrams of the public are received and transmitted from either of these offices. As soon as the student becomes qualified to transact business for the public readily, he is allowed to take charge of the city office of the W. U. Telegraph Co., where he is required to perform every duty connected with the public service, working directly with several cities and large towns, and being brought through this channel into business relations with a large body of operators, among whom are some of the best qualified in the service, he is enabled to gain a practical experience not obtainable in any other way.

General Information.

LOCATION.

HILLSDALE, the seat of Hillsdale College, is a flourishing city in Southern Michigan. By means of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, and the Detroit, Hillsdale & Indiana Railroads, which pass through it, communication is had with all parts of the country. By these routes it is one hundred and eighty miles east of Chicago, sixty west of Toledo, and eighty southwest of Detroit. The College buildings are located sufficiently near to the business portion of the city to accommodate students in all matters which may legitimately call them there, and yet so far removed as to secure that quiet which is essential to the successful prosecution of study.

BUILDINGS.

On the 6th of March last the greater part of the College edifice was destroyed by fire. In view of the need long felt for a larger amount of room, the Board of Trustees decided to rebuild on a plan comprising five separate buildings. Three of these were put under contract in June, and two of them are rapidly approaching completion. The corner stone of the main college edifice was laid August 18, 1874, and the building will be ready for occupancy January 1, 1875.

This building contains the Chapel, Library, President's room, Treasurer's office, and eleven recitation rooms of beautiful quality.

The two remaining buildings under contract contain the Museum, Art Gallery, Studio, Music Hall, Apparatus rooms, Laboratories, Philosophical and Chemical Amphitheaters, additional recitation rooms and five Literary Society Halls.

All the public rooms are lighted by gas, and warmed and ventilated after the most approved methods.

The grounds surrounding the College buildings are ample, well laid out and beautifully adorned with shade trees and evergreens.

For full information with regard to the design, history and photographic view of the new college group, reference is made to the circular issued by authority of the Trustees, and to be obtained of the college Treasurer.

BOARDING.

The College boarding hall for ladies and gentlemen is maintained on the co-operative system; table board from $2.00 to $2.25 per week.

Ladies' dormitories only are connected at the present time with the College buildings.

The rooms are furnished with stoves, bedsteads, tables and chairs. Each student furnishes her own bed and bedding, light, wood, etc.

Students whose circumstances require it are permitted to board themselves.

Ladies who are not residents of the city are required to room in the College unless permission from the Lady Principal has been previously obtained to room elsewhere.

GRADUATION.

To all members of the graduating class of the Classical Department in full and regular standing, the Trustees grant Diplomas conferring the academic degree of Bachelor of Arts.

To all members of the graduating class of the Scientific Department the Trustees grant diplomas conferring the academic degree of Bachelor of Science.

NORMAL INSTRUCTION.

Teachers' classes are formed every Fall Term, in which special instruction is given in the branches pursued in the common schools. In connection with these classes, lectures will be delivered on the theory and practice of teaching. Thus, ample facilities will be afforded to prepare teachers thoroughly for their work.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

All the students are required to attend prayer daily in the Chapel, and public worship on the Sabbath, at the College Church, or at such places as may be selected, with the approval of the Faculty.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The Library contains about four thousand volumes, and is constantly increasing, by donation and purchase. All students have access to the Library, which will be open daily. Friends of the College will confer a substantial favor by making contributions of books. A Reading Room is connected with the Library, furnished with a valuable selection of periodicals, to which all have access at a small charge.

MUSEUM.

By the burning of the College buildings the Museum of Natural History was a total loss. But the generous and valuable contributions of the Alumni and friends of the College have already begun the work of restoration.

We are glad to announce that the Dr. Abbott collection of California plants and minerals will be duplicated within the present year, as also the collection of Alpine and European plants. The mineralogical and lithological collections, including the "Baggerly collection of minerals" now number about four hundred specimens.

In view of the great loss and needs of the department it is confidently asked and expected that the patrons and friends of the College will contribute both money and specimens to fill the new and spacious museum.

PAINTING AND DRAWING.

In addition to the general instruction in Perspective Drawing, Crayoning, Oil Painting, and other exercises, pupils have access to Mr. Gardner's collection of pictures from original designs and copies from the old masters. Mr. Geo. B. Gardner, the instructor in this department, a professional artist of many years' experience, having studied in the best Galleries in Europe and throughout the United States, will from time to time give lectures on painting and the arts of design. Special attention will be given to those who wish to qualify themselves to teach or to practice the profession. It will not be deemed invidious to say that quite exceptional advantages are afforded in this Institution for the study of Art.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Gentlemen have three well-sustained Literary Societies: The Amphictyon, the Alpha Kappa Phi, and the Theological.

The latter is mostly composed of students who have the ministry in view.

SKETCH OF ITS HISTORY—RECENT LOSS OF ITS BUILDINGS—CHANGE OF PLANS AND DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW.

Aid needed for the New Buildings—The relative obligations of the County and Denomination—Building for the Ages—Encouragements—Agents—A New President and Professor—Appeal for Aid, and Instrumentalities and Processes suggested—Literary Societies and Alumni Reunion—“Appeal Extra” on Behalf of a New Bell.

This institution was originally located at Spring Arbor, Jackson County, Mich., and known as “Michigan Central College,” and was the first college ever founded by the Free-Will Baptist denomination. Planned to promote Christian education, and open to all “irrespective of national-ity, color, or sex,” it grew rapidly, until attendance necessitated enlargement or removal. A lack of generosity on the part of the citizens to accomplish the former, compelled the choice of the latter. This decision aroused an opposition which caused the College to suffer the loss of its grounds, buildings, apparatus, library, etc., to the amount of nearly $20,000; but the Hillsdale College was brought to this place and named “Hillsdale College.”

The people of this vicinity began at once to provide a new home for it, the Rev. Esbon Blackmar contributing the site, a beautiful plat of twenty acres of land, and the people of the county erecting the buildings, the corner stone of which was laid July 4, A. D. 1853. The buildings were so far completed that school was opened Nov. 7, 1855, the value of the property at that time being about $50,000. During the construction of the buildings agents visited our churches throughout the land, to raise an endowment for the support of the teaching department, the original intention being to secure $100,000, if possible, by the time the buildings should be ready for use. This sum, however, was not reached until 1861; and as it lay in personal securities gathered from all over the loyal North, the shock of war caused it to suffer a loss of at least $25,000!

Being free from the embarrassment of indebtedness, and its employes being also its founders and willing to perform large service for moderate compensation, the College kept steadily on doing its work until the 6th of March last, when the central building and west wing were destroyed by fire, occasioning a loss altogether of about $50,000!!

This stroke was a severe one, and aroused general attention to the danger of total loss in a connected building; and as the imperfections of the old form came to be understood and the people began to realize the improvements that might be secured by a change, the whole question was most carefully considered, until a plan which comprised five independent buildings was adopted. These buildings were symmetrically grouped upon our spacious and inviting grounds in such way that they sustain an appropriate relation to each other, and are so arranged as to anticipate the most systematic classification of the departments, and provide most perfectly for all the organizations of the institution. The plan was then developed under the finest architectural taste of the country and reduced by the laws of perspective to canvas. From this “perspective” we have an accurate photograph, which represents the grounds and buildings as they are to be.

The main front is to the south. The buildings are to be of brick, and all to be three stories high, besides the basements. The partition walls will be of brick, which will give great strength and stability. The center building presents a front of 80 feet, and including the portico has a depth of 80 feet. The front of its basement will contain two class rooms, and the rear will be used for storage of fuel. In the first story will be the President's Room, the Treasurer's Office, and two Class or Lecture Rooms; in the second story will be the Library and Studies for three of the Professors, and in the third story will be a beautiful chapel 60x66 feet, and 22 feet in height, with a front gallery. This building will be of French style, surmounted by an elaborate dome, the summit of which will terminate in a deck 12 feet square, inclosed by an iron cresting. Upon this deck will rest a pedestal, the point of which will be 150 feet from the ground.

At the right and left of the center building and 50 feet distant, are to be halls 50x72 feet in size. These halls are connected to the center building by two-story corridors, which not only give the three very much the appearance of one building, similar in form to the old, but also save much of the running up and down stairs. The hall thus connected on the east will contain the Boarding Hall, the rooms of the Lady Principal, and the ladies' dormitories. The corresponding hall on the west will furnish rooms for the Commercial Department, and contain the gentlemen's dormitories.

At the right and left of these two halls, 60 feet farther east and west, and brought forward so that their north line is 48 feet in front of them, are duplicate halls 48x72 feet in size. They front each other across the campus, and their opposite fronts are upon the two principal streets of the city, which outline the College grounds. The east one is occupied in its first story by the Philosophic Lecture Room, an Apparatus Room, and two Mathematical Class Rooms; in its second story by the Art and Music Departments, and in its third story by beautiful halls for the two Ladies' Literary Societies.

The west one has in its first story the Lecture Room for Chemistry and Natural History, two Chemical Laboratories (fire-proof), and a Museum or Cabinet; in its second story a hall set apart for the use of the Alumni, and a Theological Society Hall; and in its third story spacious and elegant halls for the Amphictyon and Alpha Kappa Phi Literary Societies.

When it is remembered that this new group will extend a depth north and south of 192 feet instead of 60 feet, and a breadth of 496 feet instead of 260 feet, as in the old building, and that the area inclosed will be 50 per cent greater, the magnitude and value of the new plan will begin to be realized and appreciated.

The foregoing analysis of the buildings shows that the departments all take such location as is most appropriate, and that by occupying first stories all around for such purposes as require constant use, and the second and third stories in such way that they shall be used either by fewer numbers or less frequently, the wearisome labor of climbing stairs is largely avoided. Indeed, in the grouping, in the classification, in the proportions, in the solidity, in the economy and convenience, it is difficult to see how this plan could be materially improved.

Although much larger, there is no more room than is needed for the College to do its work comfortably and well, and the finish is both plain and wholesome, without foolish ornamentation or extravagance. The beauty, safety, adaptation, and good taste of the whole plan can but be accepted by every one as a prophesy of permanence and character for the College. It is truly a great advance; but the only alternative seemed to be to attempt to do the ever-increasing work of a true College with facilities very much diminished by the fire, or, with a faith that sees no difficulties but foresees the results of well directed and if need be of long continued effort, to struggle for and achieve the victory which all will be so glad to enjoy.

Trusting that such faith and such effort would be rewarded, and in the words of Dr. Day, that the Lord would "make the good land of promise the actual possession of the College," the work has already been begun. Now let the gifts flow in, with a prayer for Divine blessing upon them, and consecrated walls and cultured hearts shall shed lasting honor upon all those who bear a worthy part. It ought to be a pleasure to every one to know that the College proposes to live in such a way as to honor those who have sacrificed for it in the past, and to be worthy of the outlay that must be made for its upbuilding and support in the future. The shock of so destructive a fire just following a financial panic which involved the whole country, put the college to the severest test of its life. Never again can there come a time when its destiny will hang so dangerously poised as through this trying period, and yet not for one moment have the guardians of its interests wavered in their purpose to reestablish it; in such way as to give it stability, and insure for it increased usefulness.

The elements necessary for the efficiency of the College are many. The grounds and buildings must be had for its new home; sufficient endowment must be secured for its support; capable and consecrated men and women must be employed in its service; it must be well furnished with apparatus, have a cabinet, laboratory, library, etc.; and then enjoy a liberal patronage and the confidence of the people, and especially of our Churches. Since the apparatus, cabinet, and laboratory are gone, the library damaged, the buildings mainly destroyed, and the endowment scarce half large enough to meet the demands made upon the College, it will be seen that its wants are manifold and imperative, and contributions for any of these purposes will be gratefully received and faithfully appropriated.

Determined not to be repulsed by the fire, we propose a movement all along the line which shall, in due season, result in success. The fire was a very costly advertisement, but it is the intention that the College shall, before the efforts in that direction shall cease, stand higher, and with prospects for future good a hundred per cent beyond what it did the day prior to the conflagration. The undertaking is not rash, but accords with the judgment and advice of the leading architects and ablest educators of the country. The only barrier is the lack of the necessary means. And here it is proper to speak of the cost, and the amount required above present available resources.

Finished and furnished, the cost is variously estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000. The central building will require $25,000, and each of the others from $12,500 to $15,000. The central building and the extreme east and west halls are under contract, two of them positively, and the other provisionally. The means to build this building is the first great want to be supplied, and would insure the third building of the group, viz., the one containing the Art and Music departments, and the Ladies' Literary Society halls. The next, or fourth building, containing the Commercial rooms, is expected to be built by the friends of that department; and for the fifth building time can be taken for the raising of a fund sufficient to transform the old part now standing into the new one described as containing the boarding hall.

Therefore, on the supposition that the Commercial department builds one building, the sum required above present available means to complete the group will be about $25,000,—one half of which must be raised at once to secure the favorable terms of the present contract. For this purpose our appeal is both to the citizens of the county and to the denomination.

It has been a well-accepted theory that the county would furnish the buildings, and the denomination at large the endowment; and since the College is to be 50 per cent larger, and 100 per cent better than before, the obligation upon the near locality is peculiar, and surely no considerate and well-disposed person will fail to bear a proportionate share. We ought also to remind the denomination of the fact that, prior to the fire, the county had raised about $10,000 for the endowment fund, so that the denomination is now under obligation to raise that sum at the earliest day possible to aid in the erection of the buildings. Of the $25,000 now to be raised, it will therefore be understood that $15,000 is to be raised within the county and $10,000 elsewhere.

No more favorable opportunity ever presented itself for a man of wealth to rear for himself a lasting monument, and have his name spoken by a grateful people for centuries to come, than now exists in the rare chance to bestow a sum sufficient to found a hall which shall be named in honor of the donor. No equal chance can ever come in the history of the institution. Will not some one, rich in this world's goods, find it in his heart to adopt Hillsdale College as one of his heirs, and bestow upon her, while yet living, the portion he desires her thus to have? Let those not able to contribute so largely bear in mind that the payment of $100 will secure a transferable scholarship that will entitle the owner thereof to tuition in the College, for one student at a time, forever. Also that $50 or $25 will secure a fractional scholarship, and that any sum, more or less, will be gratefully received.

While the valuable gifts and encouraging words of former days are neither forgotten nor unappreciated, the great loss sustained has rendered a new sacrifice necessary. A burnt-out college must be restored, and we expect our ministry, our church membership, our old subscribers, our alumni, our former students, and all our friends wherever our necessities shall be made known, to bear some part in the work.

If there were any lack of public confidence in the plans for the new college buildings, we might quote opinions from high and respectable sources; but since they were adopted after the most mature deliberation of the Board of Trustees, we shall regard that question as settled, and go on in all good faith to see the ideal put into reality at the earliest day possible, remembering that a college is not the creature of a day, but that it requires the growth of years and ages, and that the truest wisdom lies in working toward the completion of a worthy plan. We are not building for this year nor this century, but for centuries to come. Looking toward this, we have grounds unsurpassed in beauty and adaptation, and money enough from insurance and early subscriptions to begin the work. Our endowment is untouched by the fire or ruthless hands. The College has all these elements of strength, and with the comparatively small amount we ask it will not be an experiment, but its success will be guaranteed.

To show the opening and progress of the good work of furnishing aid, we cite a few examples and show the present status of the case.

Immediately upon the receipt of the telegraphic announcement of our great loss, Rev. I. D. Stewart of the Morning Star sent his check for $50, and by the same mail came a donation of $100 from W. S. George & Co., of Lansing, publishers of the STATE REPUBLICAN. These were the first gifts after the fire; and following them various parties, from New England to the far West, have sent sums from $1.00 to $100, until these voluntary expressions aggregate about $2,500. Even across the sea Rev. Dr. Burns of London sent a Government ten-dollar greenback.

Upon the occasion of laying the corner stone the Hon. Zachariah Chandler of Detroit, our United States Senator, cheered us with a pledge of $1,000. At home, among the early contributors, William Waldron, Esq., President of our First National Bank, gave his check for $500; then Albert Dickerman, Esq., our Judge of Probate, subscribed $500; and others have either already made pledges or are holding the matter under favorable consideration. We have also been cheered by the cordial reception of our agents in the distance, until the pledges thus made amount to about $4,000.

But these we count among present resources, and not a part of the $25,000 yet to be raised. We mention them as worthy examples, and to stimulate others to meet proportionate obligation. Already our hearts have been touched, and tears of gratitude have often fallen, as we have come to realize that the College had the sympathy of so many true and faithful friends, and yet the work is scarce begun.

We are not unmindful of the aid rendered by our denominational, State, and city papers. In due time Messrs. Brush & Smith of Detroit, our architects, upon visiting our grounds, seemingly designed for just such use as they are employed, became interested in the plans, and have shown good taste and ability in their development; and for their faithful service and generous terms we owe them great obligation.

Again, in our darkest days, when our ability to come "Out of the Old House into the New" was in doubt, Messrs. Richard & Mickle of Jackson came to our relief with a proposition to build the three buildings under contract for about $45,000, which was nearly $10,000 less than the average of the bids made. Upon due investigation we found them to be among the most reputable builders of the State, and their bonds for the faithful performance of our contract are guaranteed by parties worth half a million of dollars. This firm is said to be the only firm resident in the State that filed bonds and a bid for the building of our Capitol buildings now in progress.

Were farther assurances necessary that the actual work of building is to honor the plan, we might state that Col. F. M. Holloway, a man eminently fitted for the service, was elected Superintendent of the work and accepted the appointment, generously making a subscription to cover his own compensation.

The first real manifestation of the people of the locality after the fire was upon the occasion of the laying of the corner stone, on the 18th of August. The large attendance, the marked attention, and the appropriate addresses rendered the occasion one of peculiar interest and seemed like the dawn of a better day.

The thing that now remains is to secure the funds, and we assure all that voluntary expressions are always in order; and as our necessities are made known we trust that these freewill offerings will be continued. But because the wants of the College must be made known face to face with many, we must necessarily employ more or less agencies, and it is among the good fortunes of the College that as the churches in the distance are to be visited, we have the services of Rev. David L. Rice, a pioneer in this work, and a most devoted and efficient agent. As he pleads for aid all we need to say is, "Hear ye him." Locally, we have the services of Bro. Henry J. King, formerly Treasurer of the College, now a Trustee and its Auditor, and who for years has been cashier of one of our banks. In the county, or wherever he goes, we ask that his solicitations may receive prompt and generous response. Rev. Geo. S. Bradley of Evansville, Wisconsin, and Rev. E. N. Wright of Waupun, in the same State, have just been appointed agents, and we trust they will do efficient work in their field. During vacations and incidentally our Professors and others will do what they can to assist in raising funds for the College, either for building or endowment.

Relative to the question of endowment, our former President, Rev. Daniel M. Graham, who resigned the Presidency in June last, proposes to complete the raising of the sum of $10,000 for the "David Marks Professorship." He also expresses a purpose to raise $10,000 each for the chairs of the Lady Principal and the Principal of the Preparatory Department.

We are happy to be able to announce that the vacancy occasioned by Dr. Graham's resignation is already filled by the unanimous election of Rev. DeWitt C. Durgin of New Market, N. H.; and since Mr. Durgin is comparatively unknown in the West, we desire to say that his nomination came from Rev. Dr. Day, who is so well and favorably known among us. In his letter of nomination he says: "Mr. Durgin is 43 years old, is a scholar, an excellent man, an able preacher, and has been a successful teacher." Dr. Fairfield, in his address at the laying of the corner stone, and who had known him when a boy, vouched for his success "if his noble boyhood had developed into a corresponding manhood."

We learn that Mr. Durgin has held high positions in his own State, and is regarded as one of the ablest educators of New England. We quote one or two items from Eastern papers. President Orcutt, in the Daily Monitor of Concord, N. H., says: "Mr. Durgin will honor the new position to which he is called. We cannot afford to lose such men from the State, but we are confident that our loss will be the gain of our distant neighbor." The State Press of New Hampshire says: "As a gentleman, scholar, teacher, and clergyman, Mr. Durgin ranks high in New Hampshire, and in our estimation our Western friends have made no mistake in their selection."

Rev. Kendall Brooks, D. D., President of Kalamazoo College, wrote in answer to an invitation to be present at the laying of the corner stone: "It would give me real pleasure to be there and to manifest my interest in the prosperity of Hillsdale College,—an interest which is hearty, and is increased by the prospect of your welcoming to the Presidency of the College my former pupil, Rev. D. W. C. Durgin. Although I have not met him for many years, I am glad to bid him welcome to his new field of service, and to pray that his administration may be abundantly prosperous and long continued."

That he discerns wisely with reference to the needs of the College, we quote a passage from his own letter: "The acceptance of that position with me would mean work and entire devotion to the interests of the College." We are happy to add that Mr. Durgin, upon visiting the place, has accepted the appointment and entered upon the duties of the position.

We have also a valuable addition to the Faculty in the appointment of Rev. Richard James, D. D., of Zanesville, Ohio, to the chair of Mathematics. One whose opinion is entitled to consideration says of him: "You have a noble man and first-class educator in Dr. James." From his letter of acceptance we quote: "I am gratified at the confidence reposed in me by the Board of Trustees, and should the providence of God permit me to enter upon the duties of the chair, I will endeavor to show that it is not misplaced. I hope before many months to be actively working for our common Master among his servants in Hillsdale."

We have this good word from Rev. G. H. Ball, D. D., editor of the Baptist Union of New York city: "I shall do all I can for the College. It is the hope of the Liberal Baptist cause in the great Central Western and Southern States. We must make it strong."

For our encouragement, Wm. H. Thompson, Esq., of Boston, Mass., pays $500 per annum for the support of one of our Theological Professors, and we hope this is but a few drops before a more plentiful shower.

Another point in our prospects is that our Alumni have entered upon the work of endowing a Professorship in the sum of $10,000, more than half of which is already pledged. During the coming year we expect that the remainder will be raised, and that at their reunion in 1875 they will nominate a Professor who shall at once enter upon service.

Having thus recited the helpful and hopeful things, we have to assure all that there is a great work to be done beyond what can be reached by all these. Regular agencies can do but a small part of it. We must reach the mass through the press at once, and so we have given these frank statements and explanations in regard to the wants of the College, and suggest the ways to provide for them. We were delayed in the outset with the adjustment of insurance. Next, it took months to settle the question of plans, during which period we could neither speak confidently nor intelligently. We have scarce commenced the work of reconstruction, but must now enter actively and perseveringly upon it.

We plead that no one will allow himself to act upon the fallacy that others will give if he does not. The responsibility is individual, and the means now available will not do the work which must be done in this emergency. Then, the buildings erected, they must be furnished; and there is no means to provide for this. Rooms would be useless without being seated and warmed. The benevolence of our friends must for a time be tributary to this interest. Voluntary offerings comprise our only support. Reader, are you a friend of the College? Your contribution will constitute the best evidence.

The record which the College has made in the past justifies all we ask. Remember that it has made its impress upon nearly 5,000 students, having graduated over 300 who are now filling posts of honor and usefulness. From 600 to 800 students are in attendance annually. The curriculum of studies is such as to give Hillsdale College a rank among the best colleges of the land. The Faculty numbers 12, with an additional corps of instructors and teachers of as many more.

Not least among the advantages here may be mentioned the very superior Literary Societies which give polish to the rhetoric and force and grace to the oratory of their members. In short, the facilities for instruction in the classics, in the sciences, in theology, book-keeping, telegraphy, penmanship, painting and music are such as to commend Hillsdale College to the attention and patronage of all who seek a liberal education.

We now come to enumerate the instrumentalities and suggest the processes to accomplish the desired end.

1st. We invite our ministers everywhere to bear some part. If we put the information into their possession through the press in one way or another, we shall expect their coöperation. If we send copies of our appeal to them we trust that they will appropriately distribute them among their membership and acquaintances, and that this will be followed by public persuasion or canvass, until, as a result, we shall be in receipt of generous remittances.

2d. If we send to an old subscriber who has paid his former pledge, may we not hear from him by way of another gift? And if to one whose pledge is wholly or in part unpaid, will he not remember that his promise was accepted in good faith, and resolve to meet it at the earliest day possible?

3d. If we address our alumni, will not those who have not given, or those who have given and are able to do more, at once make their subscriptions to the Alumni Endowment, that that work may be completed and the installation of their Professor bear even date with the going up to occupy the new buildings as well as from the grand reunion of A. D. 1875? And may we not ask them also, as those appreciating the value and importance of a cabinet for the benefit of the Natural Science department, to take especial pains to collect specimens in their various localities and forward them for the new and spacious room set apart for this purpose? We urge all to see to it that this sore loss is repaired as soon as possible.

4th. If we reach our students will not each one send at least one dollar for the new buildings, and more if possible; and if unable to send anything, persuade those who are able, and thus bear a part in the rebuilding of the College in which we believe every one has an interest? And let young men and women remember that without patronage all the outlays are useless. Don't forget that the highest good that can be done is to furnish the College with good and faithful students.

5th. If we address a postmaster we ask that on behalf of the cause of education, and especially of a burnt-out College, he will hand copies of our circulars to his friends and neighbors, with such discrimination and good word as will secure the end desired.

6th. When we address teachers will they not take pleasure in judiciously distributing our circulars among their pupils and patrons?

7th. When we venture upon the attention of editors we shall trust that the justice of our cause will stimulate them to give us the benefit of the press, drawing from the circular such points as they may think will be mutually profitable to their readers and to us.

And finally, we assure all who may learn of our misfortunes and care to encourage the commendable plans for rebuilding, that we rely upon them to do something. Let at least two generous souls be found who will build each a hall and have them bear the names of the donors in honor of such generosity. Next, let all who can either pay or pledge $100, and receive a perpetual scholarship for it. Then let others pay or pledge $50 or $25, and receive fractional scholarships, and lastly gifts of $10 or $5, as you are able, every person sending at least $1.

Owing to the lack of a sufficient number of agents to reach all, and because of the cost attendant upon agencies if we had them, we shall enclose a blank note in many instances to those of our own acquaintance, or to those who may be suggested by others, asking that after due consideration, in case present funds cannot be sent, it shall be filled out for such sum and such time as the party may think best, and forwarded to the College by first mail. Let the postoffice address be plainly written in connection with the date. All remittances will be duly credited and promptly receipted.

We close by saying that a reunion of our Alumni and two of our Literary Societies will occur in connection with the annual commencement of June, 1875, and we assure all our friends that they will be welcomed on that occasion. We hope to see a large number who shall have sent in their gifts or pledges before that time, and we will all go up together to dedicate these buildings and set apart these various halls to their intended uses.

Our College catalogue will always be sent an application. Trusting that our appeal will not be in vain, we wait responses. Communications concerning matters herein to be addressed to

L. P. REYNOLDS,

Sec. and Treas., Hillsdale, Mich.

Hillsdale College, Sept. 1, 1874.

Appeal Extra.

Our new College buildings are put into "perspective" and photographed. The pictures are very fine, and we desire to distribute them for the purpose of giving a view of the new College and aiding in raising a fund for the purchase of a new bell. There are four sizes, the prices of which are respectively, 50 cents, 35 cents, 25 cents, and 20 cents, or one of each kind for one dollar. Every copy sold helps a little. Let us have an order from every one who is willing to help repair the loss of the old bell. Address

L. P. REYNOLDS,
Hillsdale, Mich.

The Ladies have two Societies: The Ladies' Literary Union, and the Germanæ Sodales, which are also well sustained.

These societies have separate rooms and libraries.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

For the Commercial Course, from $12 to $15. Telegraphic Course, from $2 to $2 50.

All amounts received for Scholarships from residents of Hillsdale County will be devoted to the new building to be occupied by this department. Those who attend the department now, will not only pay for tuition, but for a fine public building, at the same time, with the same money that would pay for tuition alone, elsewhere.

Persons not wishing to pursue a course of study in the department at present, but who intend to do so in a few years, would do well to purchase scholarships now and thus aid in the construction of the beautiful group of buildings in process of erection.

THE COMMERCIAL COURSE,

EMBRACES COMMERCIAL LAW, POLITICAL ECONOMY, BOOK-KEEPING, PENMANSHIP, AND COMMERCIAL ARITHMETIC.

Book-keeping, as studied in connection with the course, exhibits the entire process of opening, conducting and closing about forty sets of Stock and Partnership Books; with the most approved forms for keeping accounts by Single and Double Entry, in the various departments of trade.

In working these sets the student makes out his Journal,—in most of the sets Day-book also, and posts to his Ledger, keeping all the auxiliary books, and writing out every kind of Commercial Paper, including Contracts, Promissory Notes, Checks, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, Orders, Receipts, Due-bills, Accounts Current, Account Sales, Bills of Parcels, Invoices, and Bills of Lading.

Among the kinds of business which the practice in Book-keeping comprises, are Wholesale and Retail Merchandising, Commission, Compound Company and Joint Stock business, Banking, Steamboating, Railroad, Manufacturing, Jobbing, Brokerage, and Exchange.

Instruction is given orally to classes and to individuals separately, and their work criticised and corrected.

The Course is divided into three divisions, as follows:

TELEGRAPHY.

Theoretical and Practical Telegraphy is taught by the Principal—a sound operator of years' experience, aided by practical assistants.

FACILITIES.

The telegraphic apparatus is very large, embracing every kind of instrument in use on the lines of this country, in connection with which there is a good collection of electrical instruments quite sufficient to fully illustrate every principle of electricity which would in any wise interest or benefit the student of Telegraphy. In the practice, students are drilled first on short circuits confined to the College building, then upon the College line having five separate offices, distant from each other a quarter of a mile, and provided with all necessary office supplies, such as blank record books, printed message blanks, tariff books, blank reports, and train order blanks. The W. U. Co.'s city office and the telegraph office of the L. S. & M. S. R. R. are also connected with this line, and the telegrams of the public are received and transmitted from either of these offices. As soon as the student becomes qualified to transact business for the public readily, he is allowed to take charge of the city office of the W. U. Telegraph Co., where he is required to perform every duty connected with the public service, working directly with several cities and large towns, and being brought through this channel into business relations with a large body of operators, among whom are some of the best qualified in the service, he is enabled to gain a practical experience not attainable in any other way.

THE COURSE

Is divided into two divisions, and is accompanied by a course of Lectures embracing the following subjects:

Frictional Electricity, Galvanic or Voltaic Electricity, Magnetism, Systems of Telegraphy, Thermal Electricity, Insulation, Circuits, Conduction, Induction, Aerial Telegraph, Submarine Telegraph, Terrestrial Electrical Disturbances.

The Department will soon have completed a subscription of ten thousand dollars for the construction of the north-west building, as shown in the plan of the new College group. When completed, this building will be a more elegant and commodious home than is possessed by any similar school in the West. The friends of commercial education are earnestly solicited to aid in this first structure of the kind in the United States, built by the business public.

LOCATION.

HILLSDALE, the seat of Hillsdale College is a flourishing city in Southern Michigan. By means of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, and the Detroit, Hillsdale & Southwestern Railroads, which pass through it, communication is had with all parts of the country. By these routes it is one hundred and eighty miles east of Chicago, sixty west of Toledo, and eighty southwest of Detroit. The College buildings, located on College Hill, beautifully overlook the entire business portion of the city, and yet are sufficiently removed to secure quiet.

BUILDINGS.

The College occupies four separate buildings, three of them new, having been erected since the burning of the former edifice, March 6th, 1874. The structures are all of brick, three stories high, and are arranged on three sides of a quadrangle, the principal front facing the south. The College park of twenty-five acres, is well laid out and beautifully adorned with shade trees and evergreens.

The main College Hall, 80 x 80, contains the Chapel, 60 x 66, Library and Reading Room, 60 x 30, President's Room, Treasurer's Office, four classical, and two mathematical recitation rooms. The building is of Composite style of architecture, and is surmounted by a dome containing a 2,500 lb. bell, and a large four dial tower clock. The turret deck above the dome, (accessible to visitors,) rises 125 feet over the foundation, and commands the finest view in Southern Michigan.

The extreme West Building, 48 x 72, contains the Museum of Natural History, 48 x 30—two stories; the Chemistry Amphitheatre; two fire-proof Chemical Laboratories; the Alumni Hall; and three large and elegantly furnished Literary Society Halls.

The extreme East Building, 48 x 72, contains the Philosophical Amphitheatre; the Lady Principal's Recitation Room; one Mathematical Recitation Room; Art Gallery; Studio; Music Room; Beethoven Hall; and two Ladies' Society Halls.

The Ladies' Dormitory Building, 80 x 60, is the "East Hall and Connection" of the former building, (the centre and west wing of which were burned.) It contains the College Parlor; Lady Principal's Office and Rooms; Dormitories for fifty young ladies; the Dining Hall, Kitchen, etc.

The North West Building, 50 x 72 feet, which is to be built the present year, will contain the Recitation Rooms and offices of the Commercial and Telegraphic Department, including a Lecture Room 36 x 50, a Practice and Apparatus Room; a large Writing Hall; a Battery Room; Offices, and twenty-two suits of Gentlemen's Dormitories, each suit consisting of a Parlor about 12 feet square, and a Bed-room 9 x 12.

The five buildings extend from North to South 192 feet; and from East to West 496 feet, and contain fifty per cent. more room than the former buildings. All the rooms and halls are lighted by gas, and warmed and ventilated in the most approved manner.

For any additional information with regard to the design, history and photographic view of the new College group, reference is made to the circular issued by authority of the Trustees, and to be obtained of the College Treasurer.

The rooms are furnished with stoves, bedsteads, tables and chairs. Each student furnishes her own bed and bedding, light, wood, etc.

Students whose circumstances require it, are permitted to board themselves.

Ladies who are not residents of the city are required to room in the College unless permission from the Lady Principal has been previously obtained to room elsewhere. Entering students will bear this rule in mind before securing rooms in town.

GRADUATION.

To all Scientific Graduates, the Trustees grant Diplomas conferring the academic degree of Bachelor of Science.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

All Students are required to attend Prayers daily in the Chapel, and public worship on the Sabbath, at the College Church, or at such places as may be selected, with the approval of the Faculty.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The Library contains about five thousand volumes, and is constantly increasing, by donation and purchase. All students have access to the Library, which will be open daily. Friends of the College will confer a substantial favor by making contributions of books. A Reading Room is connected with the Library, furnished with a valuable selection of periodicals, to which all have access. Nearly five hundred books from the valuable private library of Rev. Geo. T. Day, D. D., late Editor of the Morning Star, has just been added to the College Library by the generous joint bestowment of Mrs. Geo. T. Day and Mr. L. W. Anthony, of Providence, R. I., to be known as the "Day Library."

MUSEUM AND LABORATORIES.

By the burning of the College Museum, the Natural History Collections were totally destroyed. But the generous and valuable contributions of other Colleges, the Alumni, and Friends have already made more than a beginning in the work of restoration.

While some valuable mineral specimens were lost that will not soon be replaced, yet the new collection is already more complete in certain departments than before the fire. Acknowledgement is given for the ,

The Department has also added a series of one hundred colored anatomical charts, and also a suit of ten geological paintings illustrative of the different geological ages, painted for the College by Prof. Geo. B. Gardner, which are of the highest artistic and scientific value. A new and powerful microscope, made by Browning, of London, has been presented to the department the present year.

The department of Chemistry, though it lost all by the fire, is now more fully equipped in chemicals and apparatus, and possesses more varied and convenient appliances for its work than before the fire.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Gentlemen have three well sustained Literary Societies: The Amphictyon, the Alpha Kappa Phi, and the Theological.

The latter is mostly composed of students who have the ministry in view.

The Ladies have two Societies: The Ladies' Literary Union, and the Germanae Sodales, which are also well sustained.

These Societies have separate rooms.

ALUMNI CATALOGUE.

The Alumni Association publish this year a complete list of their membership, which includes all who have graduated from the College, giving their degrees, place of nativity, present address, occupation, etc. This Catalogue will be equivalent to the "College Triennial," and contain the Constitution of the Association, an abstract of the proceedings since its organization, the necrology of members, an account of the Literary Exercises of their Reunion, etc.

This initiatory volume has been compiled by Elon G. Reynolds, A.M., a resident graduate, and is the result of a careful and patient gathering of such facts as will be of peculiar interest to all the members of the Association, and of great value to the College.

Extra copies may be obtained upon application to the Alumni Professor, Rev. John S. Copp. Single copies, 25 cents, five copies, $1.

Our New Buildings.

We are in the midst of the construction of the new group of buildings illustrated in the engraving sent out in this issue of our annual Catalogue. This group takes the place of the former edifice, mainly destroyed by fire on the 6th of March, 1874.

As the midnight alarm aroused us to find the west end of the Old Building in flames, already taking our Cabinet of Natural History and our Chemical Laboratory, and Philosophic and Astronomic Apparatus, and on their way taking the rooms of the Commercial Department, and the Literary Societies, until in the fearful devastation it took the whole of the Central Building, including the Library Room, Office, Professors' Studies, Chapel, Dome, Bell, etc.—and but for a gentle breeze kindly turning the flames away, the whole would have been laid in ashes—we instinctively resolved that some plan should be substituted that would not make it possible in the future to be utterly destroyed by a single fire.

Though we had a sort of a reverence for the Old Building, the experience of twenty years had shown us its defects, and taught us that there was a better way. In the Old, satisfactory classification was impossible. Departments, Society Halls and Dormitories were heterogeneously congregated—an arrangement neither convenient nor in good taste—and, as a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, so the more valuable parts were no safer than the most insecure dormitory. Then, the joining of five individual buildings together so effectually shut out the light and air as to seriously reduce the quality of the room contained.

With these things in mind we felt sure that wisdom lay in the direction of detached buildings; and so, after a careful study to provide proportionately, and as perfectly as possible, for the various present and prospective wants of the College, the group as represented was adopted, and we now have the satisfaction of knowing that the new plan is universally approved. While the cost of building separately, as compared with the former style, and especially of increasing the size to secure room long needed and to anticipate future growth, was thoroughly taken into account, it was thought that the advantages to be gained fully justified it.

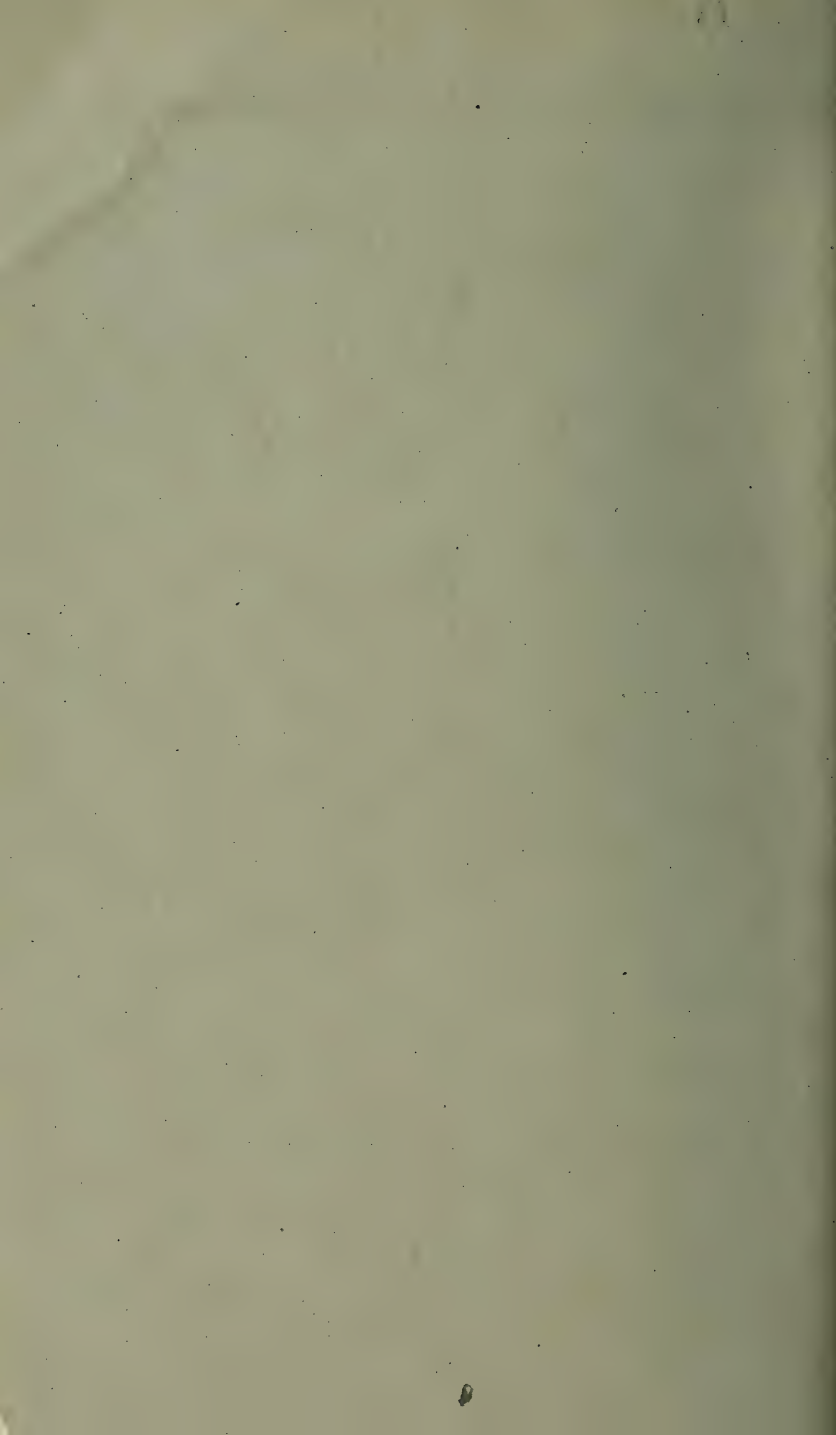

Now, after little more than a year from the laying of the Corner Stone, the Central Building is complete. The West Building, except the part borne by the Alumni and the Literary Societies in fitting up their respective Halls, is also complete. And, be it said that the Literary Societies are doing a work highly creditable to them. The East Building is enclosed and will be finished during the present year. The fourth in order, being the one next west of the Central Building, is to be built by the Commercial Department and is expected to be completed during the coming year. The funds for it are now being raised, and we bespeak due consideration for those having this work in charge. For the fifth building of the group, being the one next east of the Central Building, time is to be taken until it shall seem wise to transform the old part now standing in its place into the form as represented in the cut.

In reconstructing the College upon such a scale, and immediately after a general financial panic, and in a period when a universal depression of values puts thoughtful men under a double guard, we fully realize that nothing but a patient, plodding and exceedingly laborious process will reach the end; and yet, if our friends cheerfully and promptly bear their proportionate part it will be guaranteed in the near future.

Our Building Fund, including insurance, is all expended and we are now dependent upon the friends of this enterprise for its further prosecution. Determined that there shall be no stop, we ask prompt payment of all present pledges and urge new ones until full provision is made and this noble work is done.

Thankful for the help of the past, we still bespeak aid, believing, that "In some way or other the Lord will provide."

This Department is open to any person of Christian character, who wishes to take a theological course of study, and whose education qualifies him to pursue the course with profit.

Candidates for admission are expected to be present on the first day of the Academic Year.

EXPENSES.

Tuition is free to all persons who are members in good standing in any evangelical denomination, and tuition is free to students in other departments of the College who are preparing for the work of the gospel ministry.

AID.

Pecuniary assistance is furnished to students who are preparing for the ministry and are needy, and, so far as practicable, opportunities for remunerative preaching are obtained for them. The means thus provided, together with what may be earned during the vacations, are usually sufficient to support the student through the year.

LIBRARY.

The College has a well selected library to which additions are frequently made. This is accessible to the students in theology, free of charge. The Theological department has also a valuable library especially adapted to its wants, and a fund for its constant increase.

ENGLISH COURSE.

This course embraces all the studies of the regular course, except the Ancient Languages. A special course is allowed, under the direction of the Faculty, to those whose circumstances preclude them from the other courses.

GRADUATION.

A Diploma is given to those who complete either prescribed course of theological study and pass satisfactory examinations in the same. The degree of Bachelor of Divinity is conferred on those who complete the regular course.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

These are the same as those in the other departments of the College. See Calendar.

All amounts received for Scholarships from residents of Hillsdale County will be devoted to the new building to be occupied by this department. Those who attend the department now, will not only pay for tuition, but for a fine public building, at the same time, with the same money that would pay for tuition alone, elsewhere.

Persons not wishing to pursue a course of study in the department at present, but who intend to do so in a few years, would do well to purchase scholarships now and thus aid in the construction of the beautiful group of buildings in process of erection.

THE COMMERCIAL COURSE,

EMBRACES COMMERCIAL LAW, POLITICAL ECONOMY, BOOK-KEEPING, PENMANSHIP, AND COMMERCIAL ARITHMETIC.

Book-keeping, as studied in connection with the course, exhibits the entire process of opening conducting and closing about forty sets of Stock and Partnership Books, with the most approved forms for keeping accounts by Single and Double Entry, in the various departments of trade.

In working these sets the student makes out his Journal,—in most of the sets, Day-book also, and posts to his Ledger, keeping all the auxiliary books, and writing out every kind of Commercial Paper, including Contracts, Promissory Notes, Checks, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, Orders, Receipts, Due-bills, Accounts Current, Account Sales, Bills of Parcels, Invoices, and Bills of Lading.

Among the kinds of business which the practice in Book-keeping comprises, are Wholesale and Retail Merchandising, Commission, Compound Company and Joint Stock business, Banking, Steamboating, Railroading, Manufacturing, Jobbing, Brokerage, and Exchange.

Instruction is given orally to classes and to individuals separately, and their work criticised and corrected.

The Course is divided into three divisions, as follows:

TELEGRAPHY.

Theoretical and Practical Telegraphy is taught by the Principal—a sound operator of years' experience, aided by practical assistants.

FACILITIES.

The telegraphic apparatus is very large, embracing every kind of instrument in use on the lines of this country, in connection with which there is a good collection of electrical instruments quite sufficient to fully illustrate every principle of electricity which would in any wise interest or benefit the student of Telegraphy. In the practice, students are drilled first on short circuits confined to the College building, then upon the College line having five separate offices, distant from each other a quarter of a mile, and provided with all necessary office supplies, such as blank record books, printed message blanks, tariff books, blank reports, and train order blanks. The W. U. Co.'s city office and the telegraph office of the L. S. & M. S. R. R. are also connected with this line, and the telegrams of the public are received and transmitted from either of these offices. As soon as the student becomes qualified to transact business for the public readily, he is allowed to take charge of the city office of the W. U. Telegraph Co., where he is required to perform every duty connected with the public service, working directly with several cities and large towns, and being brought through this channel into business relations with a large body of operators, among whom are some of the best qualified in the service, he is enabled to gain a practical experience not attainable in any other way.

THE COURSE

Is divided into two divisions, and is accompanied by a course of Lectures embracing the following subjects :

Frictional Electricity, Galvanic or Voltaic Electricity, Magnetism, Systems of Telegraphy, Thermal Electricity, Insulation, Circuits, Conduction, Induction, Aerial Telegraph, Submarine Telegraph, Terrestrial Electrical Disturbances.

GRIFFIN HALL.

This elegant structure—the north-west building in the group—named in honor of the principal contributor to the construction fund, and to be devoted exclusively to the purposes of this department, is already enclosed and rapidly approaches completion. No other school of this character in the West enjoys so pleasant and commodious apartments as are thus permanently provided for the Commercial and Telegraphic Department of Hillsdale College. This edifice, when finished, furnished, and provided with the requisite apparatus, will have cost $15,000, and will afford such accommodations and facilities as cannot fail to please those who contemplate pursuing a business course of study.

A fine suite of rooms in the Fine Arts Hall is devoted to the use of this department.

In the Instrumental Department, it is the chief aim to lay a sure foundation, by a patient study of technics, and to develop a pure taste.

Classes in vocal music will be graded to give thorough instruction in the principles of notation, and to afford means for acquiring considerable ability in reading at sight.

The BEETHOVEN SOCIETY affords opportunity for advanced singers to become familiar with the various styles of choir and chorus singing, and for an acquaintance with many compositions of the best masters.

NOTE.—The new Art Gallery and Studio in the east building is now occupied, and offers advantages to Art students superior to any enjoyed since the founding of an Art Department in connection with this Institution.

It is the aim of the Instructor in this Department, while laying the foundation for true artistic culture in connection with classical and scientific education, to develop and advance original talent, so as to continually add in the future as in the past to the list of professional artists of our land.

Funds are much needed and earnestly solicited to add to the pictures already in the gallery; as well as to provide casts, manikins and other necessities in an Art School.

Prof. Gardner will cheerfully answer correspondence, and give any additional information desirable.

General Information.

LOCATION.

HILLSDALE, the seat of Hillsdale College, is a flourishing city in Southern Michigan. By means of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, and Detroit, Hillsdale & Southwestern Railroads, which pass through it, communication is had with all parts of the country. By these routes it is one hundred and eighty miles east of Chicago, sixty west of Toledo, and eighty southwest of Detroit. The College buildings, located on College Hill, beautifully overlook the entire business portion of the city, and yet are sufficiently removed to secure quiet.

BUILDINGS.

The College occupies five separate buildings, four of them new, having been erected since the burning of the former edifice, March 6th, 1874. The structures are all of brick, three stories high, and are arranged on three sides of a quadrangle, the principal front facing the south. The College park of twenty-five acres, is well laid out and beautifully adorned with shade trees and evergreens.

The main College Hall, 80x80, contains the Chapel, 60x66, Library and Reading Room, 60x30, President's Room, Treasurer's Office, four classical, and two mathematical recitation rooms. The Building is of Composite style of architecture, and is surmounted by a dome containing a 2,500 lb. bell, and a large four dial tower clock. The turret deck above the dome, (accessible to visitors,) rises 125 feet over the foundation, and commands the finest view in Southern Michigan.

The extreme West Building, Knowlton Hall, 48x72, contains the Museum of Natural History, 48x30—two stories; the Chemistry Amphitheatre; two fire-proof Chemical Laboratories; the Alumni Hall; and three large and elegantly furnished Literary Society Halls.

The extreme East Building, nameless otherwise as yet, 48x72, contains the Philosophical Amphitheatre and Apparatus Room; the Lady Principal's Recitation Room; one Mathematical Recitation Room; Art Gallery; Studio; Music Room; Beethoven Hall; and two Ladies' Society Halls.

The Ladies' Dormitory Building, 80x60, is the "East Hall and Connection" of the former building, (the centre and west wing of which were burned.) It contains the College Parlor; Lady Principal's Office and Rooms; Dormitories for fifty young ladies; the Dining Hall, Kitchen, etc.

Griffin Hall, 52x72 feet, the outer walls of which are complete, and which will be completed altogether the present year, will contain the recitation rooms and offices of the Commercial and Tele-graphic Department, including a Lecture Room, 36x50, a Practice and Apparatus Room; a large Writing Hall; a Battery Room; Offices, and twenty-six suits of Gentlemen's Dormitories, each suit consisting of a Parlor about 12 feet square, and a Bed-room 9x12.

The five buildings extend from North to South 192 feet; and from East to West 496 feet, and contain fifty per cent. more room than the former buildings. All the rooms and halls are lighted by gas, and warmed and ventilated in the most approved manner.

For any additional information with regard to the design, history and photographic view of the new College group, reference is made to the circular issued by authority of the Trustees, and to be obtained of the College Treasurer.

The rooms are furnished with stoves, bedsteads, tables and chairs. Each student furnishes her own bed and bedding, light, wood, etc.

Students whose circumstances require it, are permitted to board themselves.

Ladies who are not residents of the city are required to room in the College, unless permission from the Lady Principal be obtained to room elsewhere. Entering students will bear this rule in mind before securing rooms in town.

GRADUATION.

To all Classical Graduates, in full and regular standing, the Trustees grant Diplomas conferring the academic degree of Bachelor of Arts.

To all Scientific Graduates, the Trustees grant Diplomas conferring the academic degree of Bachelor of Science.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

All Students are required to attend Prayers daily in the Chapel, and public worship on the Sabbath, at the College Church, or at such places as may be selected, with the approval of the Faculty.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The library contains about five thousand volumes, and is constantly increasing by donation and purchase. All students have access to the library, which is open daily, (except Sundays,) from 12½ to 3, and from 6 to 7 P. M., for the use of gentlemen, and from 3 to 5 P. M., for the use of the ladies. It occupies a fine room newly fitted up in the Central Building, and contains besides the College library proper, four society libraries, the library of the Theological Department, the Thompson donation and the Day collection. A reading room is connected with the library, furnished with the leading periodicals of the day.

MUSEUM AND LABORATORIES.

By the burning of the College Museum, the Natural History Collections were totally destroyed. But the generous and valuable contributions of other Colleges, the Alumni, and Friends have already made more than a beginning in the work of restoration.

While some valuable mineral specimens were lost that will not soon be replaced, yet the new collection is already more complete in certain departments than before the fire. Acknowledgement is given for the

The Department has also added a series of one hundred colored anatomical charts, and also a suit of ten geological paintings illustrative of the different geological ages, painted for the College by Prof. Geo. B. Gardner, which are of the highest artistic and scientific value. A new and powerful microscope, made by Browning, of London, has been presented to the department the present year.

The department of Chemistry, though it lost all by the fire, is now more fully equipped in chemicals and apparatus, and possesses more varied and convenient appliances for its work than before the fire.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Gentlemen have three well sustained Literary Societies: The Amphictyon, the Alpha Kappa Phi, and the Theological.

The Ladies have two Societies: The Ladies' Literary Union, and the Germanae Sodales, which are also well sustained.

These Societies have separate rooms.

ALUMNI CATALOGUE.

The Alumni Association published last year a complete list of their membership, which includes all who have graduated from the College, giving their degrees, place of nativity, present address, occupation, etc.

This Catalogue will be equivalent to the "College Triennial," and contains the Constitution of the Association, an abstract of the proceedings since its organization, the necrology of members, an account of the Literary Exercises of their Reunion, etc.

This initiatory volume was compiled by Elon G. Reynolds, A. M., a resident graduate, and is the result of a careful and patient gathering of such facts as will be of peculiar interest to all the members of the Association, and of great value to the College.

Extra copies may be obtained upon application to the Alumni Professor, Rev. John S. Copp. Single copies, 25 cents; five copies, $1.00.

Our Annual Letter.

Because we feel bound to let the friends of the College know something of its present condition and of its future purposes, we improve this closing page to say some things outside of regular Catalogue matter.

Simply to know of the great loss it sustained in the destruction of its buildings as late as in 1874, would suggest to every thoughtful mind that it must be passing through a trying period. Then to know that the plan adopted in lieu of the former must cost 100 per cent. more, and that the restoration must be accomplished during a time of such general stringency in finances, would make the fact all the more apparent. Last year at this time we were completing the third building of the group, while now we have the fourth quite as near completion, so that the work remaining to be done is the transformation of the old portion into the fifth and last of the group, and we cannot disguise the fact that the full realization of this plan involves much hard work and many generous contributions.

But, as we remember the good work that the College has done during its brief life, we feel somehow that it has had Divine endorsement and reverently and courageously hear the order to "go forward."

Though we are made sad as we realize the loss of many of the truest friends of the College, those who have been generous in giving and faithful in service, we still cling to the old ones, and have a faith that new ones may come to its support.

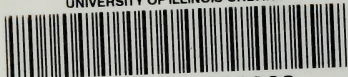

We hold in grateful recollection a multitude whose generous sacrifices have aggregated into what there now is of the College, and in a few instances it has provided for the perpetuation of the names of some of its denominational pioneers and its most generous contributors.

Because of the success given by WILLIAM BURR to our printing establishment, his name was woven into the College by calling our first Theological Professorship the "Burr Professorship." Next, the name of Rev. DAVID MARKS, the one who made the original suggestion that "we have an institution of learning for the education of our ministry," was incorporated by denominating the second chair in the Theological Department the "Marks Professorship." Then, for recognition of the life of Rev. EBENEZER KNOWLTON, one of these new buildings was named "Knowlton Hall." Following this, in the greatest emergency of our restoration, after Prof. RIDEOUT had devised a plan and entered upon the work of raising funds, CHARLES P. GRIFFIN, a friend and former associate came forward with a contribution so generous as to give impetus to the work and guarantee success, and the building which contains the Commercial and Telegraphic Department bears the name of "Griffin Hall." Two more of these beautiful halls await the generosity of friends who shall contribute, sooner or later, enough to cover the cost of each, when the College will take the responsibility of seeing that such giving receives appropriate honor.

The last name permanently attached to the institution was that of Prof. SPENCER J. FOWLER, who died at his post last year. The Trustees at their last annual meeting, as they remembered the part that he had borne in raising the endowment, and the service he had performed in his department, set apart a fund for its perpetual maintenance, and unanimously voted to name his old position "The Fowler Professorship of Mathematics."

Already have the graduates of the College endowed one chair, which is denominated the "Alumni Professorship." Other things now under way being completed, and the times coming to justify it, the third chair in the Theological Department we hope may be raised and known as the "Day Professorship." Think of it—the mites being contributed throughout our denomination would endow a chair each year and it be none the poorer. What the College shall be depends on what you make it. If each one moves promptly to meet the convictions that shall come to him, will it not be enough?
